

Key Messages for Catholic Education Sunday

Catholic Schools: Good News for All, the theme for 2009 Catholic Education Sunday, is all about sharing and celebrating the good news of our Catholic schools in Alberta. It is also about bringing that good news to others outside of our Catholic school communities. The quote for the day, from Romans 10:15, is: “how beautiful are the feet of those who bring the good news.” So let us join together today and throughout the year to bring the good news of Catholic education in Alberta to our communities:

- Catholic separate and Catholic public schools are an integral part of the success of publicly-funded Catholic education in Alberta.
- Governed by locally-elected school trustees, Catholic boards in this province are fiscally responsible
- Students from Catholic schools are continually successful. Many of our local, provincial, and even national leaders have been educated in Catholic schools
- Catholic schools are known for diversity and adaptability; their specialized programs for students of all abilities have been recognized provincially and nationally
- Provincially Catholic schools have received a large number of the available Minister’s Education Leadership Recognition Awards
- Catholic schools are innovative, preparing students to be globally-aware citizens who participate, as leaders, in their own communities and beyond
